Whew!

Just returned from the IBS convention, and what a cain-raising time that was. Thanks to all I talked to for making it all so much fun. Sara and Mark L., my two Tontos, had a kicky time as well and can hardly wait for next year's get together. Special thanks to Fred E. of CBS for the Psychedelic Furs preview; I'll be chewing my nails in anxious anticipation until the lp comes in.

Things are percolating along here at WCWM, even if we are located in Virginia (and southern Virginia at that). We recently sponsored a concert by Ten Ten, Richmond's current Big Thing; droves of fans turned out to see the band, supported by William and Mary synth group, Ampersand (yes, we do have artists at this school). Big amounts of gratitude to the always-kind Gene Lanzoni of Thirsty Ear for the Cristina interview. And we're now gearing up for another heavy-duty promotional giveaway plus some more video nights and concerts in the near future, so stay in touch.

Recuperating from driving in D.C.,
